

CV summary:

My former work experience was associated with server and application administration as well as client and computer service. My duties included administrating servers, communication with clients, repairing PCs and office equipment. I have good communication skills, can organize my work without assistance and precisely carry out instructions of my superiors and work assignments.
I want to become a good player in your team, because a job in your company seems to offer big personal and professional growth opportunities, dynamic work rhythm and a chance to apply my knowledge and skills.
